

RE-SEEDING HAIRLINES

You know what they say, "The grass is always greener on your head." Or something like that, right? In this easy experiment, we will learn how to grow our own grass!

SUPPLIES

- Old stockings (full size or anklet)
- Scissors (if using full size stockings)
- A jar
- Grass seed
- Soil
- Markers/paint and/or googly eyes
- Hot glue gun (if using googly eyes)

INSTRUCTIONS

- If not using anklet stockings, cut foot off stockings in 5 inch section.
- Stretch the opening of your stocking over the mouth of a jar or ask a partner to hold your stocking open. Put two spoonfuls of grass seed inside the stocking followed by a handful of dirt. Your stocking should be about tennis ball-sized. Tie off the end of your stocking with a knot.

#ItTakesAForest

SEEDING HAIRLINES

- Decorate your head as you would like! You can attach googly eyes with a glue gun or add features with paint or a marker. Keep in mind your stocking will be permanently wet, so try to use materials that won't run.
- Head over to the sink and run a little water over the grass seed at the top of your stocking head. Then fill up a jar about a third full of water, and place your stocking head on top of the jar so that the stocking tail hangs down into the water. The water will eventually work its way up the stocking to the grass seed!
- Now it's time to wait... Simply place your stocking head somewhere with lots of light and make sure the water level is always high enough to submerge the stocking tail. Depending on the temperature, you might want to start your stocking head indoors. In about ten days, you should have a full head of hair -- oops, we mean grass!

@ittakesaforest

@ittakesaforest

#ItTakesAForest